

HOMEOPATHY

Stimulating the Body to Heal Itself

Homeopathy is a 200 year old holistic system of medicine which stimulates the body to heal.

After an interview the Practitioner recommends a Homeopathic remedy which will address the total symptom picture of the patient.

The Homeopathic remedy works by addressing the imbalances in the body which leads the patient's body to recognize the disease state so that it can deal with it.

Homeopathy is a safe and effective system of medicine that can address any physical, mental or psychological condition or a mix of these.

Homeopathy can be integrated with other medical agents and therapies without side effects.

What can you expect?

You may experience immediate results and/or longer term improvements. You can expect insights into your condition not available from traditional medicine.

Jim Graham B.A., M.Ed., CNPA, DCHM (Hon) is a graduate of the College of Homeopaths (CCHM) in Toronto. He is also a graduate of the Certified Natural Products Adviser program (CNPA) offered at CCNM and is trained in bio-resonance and biofeedback on the L.I.F.E., CoF and NES systems.

Cheryl Graham, B.A., B. Ed. is a trained Counsellor. She has had a life-long interest in health and wellness. She is trained in bio-resonance and biofeedback on the L.I.F.E., and NES systems.

Bio-energetics ?

For information on long distance treatment, go to our website - www.bewellcentred.com

We use three different computerized scanning devices to assess your health: body, mind and spirit. Your body emits energy (information) and these devices are able to read that energy. Every condition emits a characteristic frequency.

By using all three machines, we are able to triangulate your condition more accurately.

The machines we use are non-invasive and painless. They scan for stressors, parasites, nutritional deficiencies, energy imbalances, toxins and much more. They work well on animals and small children as well.

These systems use biofeedback which changes your energy (or information) to help your body heal and to function optimally. In addition, these systems can recommend homeopathic or botanical remedies, supplements, as well as other therapies that would be helpful to assist optimal functioning of mind, body and spirit. Many of our clients are not "ill" but are athletes and executives of corporations who wish to function optimally.

These systems are especially effective for stress. Recently I had the President of a corporation in financial crisis. Normally brilliant and effective, he was so stressed he could not function. He was "sighing" repeatedly. Within one week of treatment, he was able to function. Within three weeks he was functioning optimally. Yet the stressors had not gone away.

The CoRe

This program uses open-ended questions or symptoms to assess underlying conditions and recommend remedies.

The CORE has both energetic and informational therapy modes.

The NES

NES software is able to read your body's information, and compares your information with an ideal map of the human body field. It also recommends "correctors" which are a system of infoceuticals that enable the body to self-heal.

The LIFE

The LIFE System is a detail oriented scanning device that assesses 7000 different conditions, allergens, and possible beneficial remedies for you.

In, addition, the LIFE system helps correct many problems through biofeedback, sound and light therapy.

Bio-resonance and biofeedback are entirely new forms of healing. In contrast to traditional medicine, as practiced in the Western World, bio-resonance and biofeedback are not based on invasive biochemical and structural approaches to healing. They are informational techniques that are able to detect discrepancies in the body's energy and they provide "feedback" which "encourages" the body to heal itself without ever applying disease labels.
